RE: Dr. Vlad Veksler - Application for Promotion to Associate Professor

Dear Faculty Committee:

I am writing to offer my strongest endorsement of Dr. Vlad Veksler's application for promotion to associate professor. Having collaborated closely with Dr. Veksler on numerous federal and foundational grant proposals, I have witnessed firsthand his extraordinary dedication to academic excellence and unwavering commitment to student success. Beyond impressive scholarship, what sets apart good professors from truly great ones is a deep personal investment in guiding students through their challenges—a quality Dr. Veksler demonstrates every single day.

Throughout our work securing external grant funding, Dr. Veksler's primary motivation has always been the direct impact on our students. In every federal and foundational proposal we build, his first priority is establishing meaningful research opportunities, securing resources, and expanding pathways for student growth. His enthusiasm during the grant-writing process is vibrant and contagious, driving complex collaborative projects forward while keeping student mentorship at the absolute center of our goals.

Dr. Veksler brings that same student-first ethos directly into his teaching and mentorship. He possesses a remarkable gift for making complex material accessible, intellectually stimulating, and engaging for diverse student populations. Whether guiding high achievers toward advanced research or supporting students who face academic hurdles, Dr. Veksler creates a welcoming environment where every student feels valued, capable, and motivated to succeed.

Beyond his impressive track record with grant proposals and classroom teaching, Dr. Veksler is an invaluable administrative collaborator and leader within our campus community. In short, Dr. Vlad Veksler is an outstanding educator and scholar who exemplifies the core values of Caldwell University. He has earned my utmost respect, and I believe he is deeply deserving of this promotion.
