Dear Professor Veksler,

Goodmorning.

Hope this email finds you well.

At this point I think you might have already known but I have been appointed as the TA for CS195 next semester. I just wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for your support during the application process and even more appreciation and gratitude towards the mentorship you provided to me during the first semester.

I also had a quick question about the instructor for CS195 next semester. Is it going to be you or someone else? I would love to work with you, but if that's not the case I will be looking forward to meeting and helping the other instructor with the same energy.

Once again, thank you so much for your support and guidance. I truly appreciate it!

Regards,
Sid
